

SPEED EVENT THE GREATEST IN THE WORLD

FORTY-ONE DRIVERS TRY OUT
FOR 300-MILE RACE AT SPEED-
WAY PARK, CHICAGO — OLD-FIELD IS SPEEDY.

Chicago, June 8.—With the republican national convention in session and the city thronged with thousands of visitors and reservations made for more thousands who have arranged to attend the second international auto derby, fans will see the greatest automobile speed event ever staged. The general offices at 201 Marquette building, the Speedway Park association has taken care of 43,000 reservations already. Out of forty-one drivers and cars entered, the greatest number ever nominated for a big race—the thirty-two fastest are being chosen for the start Saturday, June 10, at 1:30 p. m., when it is expected that all records for the distance will be shattered on this, the world's fastest two-mile track. The elimination trials start Tuesday and end Thursday. In addition to such drivers as Resta, Oldfield, DePalma, O'Donnell, Alley, Mulford, Ira Vail, Billy Chandler and others who sent in their entries early, the Indianapolis drivers including Pete Henderson, Eddie Rickenbacker, and Harvey Wilcox and the famous British aviator, Josef Christaens, with two Sunbeams, have joined the stars who will go after the $30,000 in prize money offered by the Speedway Park association. The last ones in were the Klein Specials. That the race will be run off without a hitch is assured with the selection of Clifford Ireland as referee and Fred Wagner as starter. Special trains will be run from cities in the central west and many automobile tours have been arranged. The roads from the heart of the Chicago to the park are in excellent shape and the approach to the track is a stretch of cement that will warm the heart of the tourist. Chicago will be able to take care of all who attend the republican convention and the auto derby as the Speedway Park association has made it a point to see that no one is disappointed in the matter of accommodations. A bureau of information has been established in the general offices in the Marquette building so that those wiring for tickets can arrange for rooms at the same time.

Sunday is an attempt to make better than two miles a minute. Barney Oldfield resurrected his Christy and set a new American 2-mile record by doing the tamarack course at the rate of 113 miles an hour. On his second mile in the first trial he made a mile in a fraction better than half a minute. He had trouble getting the big machine started but still insists that he can do better than 120 miles an hour for the world's lap record on a speedway. Thousands have watched the speed trials this week.

The Chicago Speedway is an ideal place at which to stage the greatest speed event for it is conceded to be the fastest track in the world. Two stands are large and more than 140,000 persons can be seated along the two straightaways and thousands of others can be taken care of in the infield, where for those who have no motors, circus seats will be erected if necessary. Two hundred and twenty-five thousand persons can be accommodated comfortably.

INDIANS TO GET $711,828.

Judgment is Rendered Against U. S. in Minnesota Cases.

Washington, June 7. — Judgment against the United States for $711,828 was rendered by the court of claims today in favor of the Mille Lac band of Chippewa Indians in Minnesota, in consideration of lands and timber taken by the government, homesteaders and state of Minnesota.

The judgment is based on an award to the Indians of credit for 31,592 acres of land and $202,318 on account of value of timber cut from the lands, with interest.

NARCOTIC LAW DOES NOT APPLY TO USERS

Washington, June 7.—The supreme court today interpreted the Harrison federal drug act of 1914, making it unlawful for any person not registered under the law to have opium in his possession, as applying only to those who deal in the drug and not to those who use it.

Government officials have declared that this interpretation of the law would ruin the effectiveness of the measure to a large extent. Scores of proposed prosecutions throughout the country had been held up awaiting today's decision.

AMUSEMENTS

Theatrum.

A tremendous story—red-blooded and vigorous, with Hobart Bosworth in some remarkable characterizations. In the opening he is a ward boss who refuses to bow to the will of a big politician. The politician frames him and sends him up the river. Later he gets in line and becomes a powerful and wealthy political leader. He has raised as his own the son of a former crook associate and is broken-hearted when the boy refuses his assistance—with the remark that his money is "tainted." The boy's love for the daughter of his foster father's enemy, a so-called reformer, furnishes a complication and a striking climax. The whole production is filled with human interest, and is one of the strongest releases of the season.

Jane Novak is cast in the leading feminine role opposite Mr. Bosworth in this great production, which is shown at the Theatrum today.

Palace.

Endowed with a wonderful physique and glowing complexion and possessing an active, passionate love for outdoor life, Virginia Pearson, the William Fox film beauty, appearing in the drama, "Blazing Love," which is shown at the Palace today, has at the very outset the most important requisites for beauty, but she takes no chances. Unlike most actresses, she requires little or no make-up when before the camera and no make-up at all when off the stage. She is violently opposed to rouges and the makeshift colorings and beauty trickeries which doubtless contributed to the picture that Rudyard Kipling had in mind when he described his poetic "hank of hair."

Much has been written of realism in moving pictures—real scenery, real liquid to drink from a teacup or bottle, everything as genuine as it can be made so as to make the actor really feel his part. In this, it is a well known fact, does the motion picture play outstep all reality of the stage.

But it has been left to Kenan Buel, who directed "Blazing Love," to originate probably the most realistic sensation. In that thrilling problem-drama two of the actors were supposed to be starving, they having been lost in the Arctic regions with no food. Director Buel insisted that this section be enacted late in the afternoon. Both actors had eaten a light breakfast of coffee and toast.

The director then forbade them from eating a bite of dinner, so by the time the starvation section of the film was acted the two explorers really were hungry, probably undergoing all of the tortures which one would feel after several days of starvation. And they showed it in the film, too.

JOHN CLAFLIN ONCE HAD MILLIONS; NOW IN POVERTY

New York, June 7.—John Claflin, former head of the H. B. Claflin company, which had failed in June, 1914, with liabilities of $34,000,000, now possesses a bank balance of only $290, according to a report filed by a referee in supplementary proceedings.

Mr. Claflin was examined under a judgment for $39,574 obtained against him for rent by the owners of the property occupied by one of the stores he formerly controlled.

Since receivers were appointed for the Claflin company, the judgment debtor testified he transferred to them the corporate securities of twenty-six retail dry goods stores.

Mr. Claflin said that he had used some of his resources in adjusting obligations to women to whom the receivership of the Claflin company "brought worry and trouble," by way of making up for unpaid interest on deposit accounts or for advances on account of principal.

In reply to a question he declared he had given his wife nothing but "little presents." He added that he had no life insurance.

CITIZENS' TRAINING CAMP AT FORT SAM HOUSTON

Fort Sam Houston, June 7.—The home of the citizen's training regiment is now complete. It is located near the entrance to the drill ground at Fort Sam Houston, on high ground, giving a clear unobstructed view in every direction, and affording a maximum of breeze at all hours of the day and night. The best way to locate the camp is to remember that it is close to the two large towers of the wireless station. The camp itself is very complete, composing all of the latest wrinkles in comfort and sanitation without being luxurious.

It is now intended to have eight companies. Each company will be quartered in 16 new khaki pyramidal tents, sleeping on cots with mattress. At the foot of the streets, as these tents face each other, will be a sanitary toilet and a large shower bath, with dressing rooms affording shower baths ad lib at all times. At the head of the street is a large framed kitchen screened against flies, in which will be installed the latest army cooking devices, and where the food will be cooked for the training camp men, by experts from the Fort Sam Houston school for cooks and bakers. Each kitchen will serve two dining rooms, one for each company, and the messes will be supplied practically the same food, although not necessarily identical. This important part of the camp will be under the direction of Lieut. C. R. Lewis, 23rd infantry mess officer. The kitchens will be provided with the latest type of incinerator for the disposal of garbage, and our friend, the fly, will be taboo.

In front of the main tents are the tents for the company officers, and in rear of the latter, the camp headquarters. Large signs will direct the citizens where to report, and what to do upon arrival in camp.

Close by the camp is the large soldier club of Fort Sam Houston, where periodicals and newspapers are always on tap, and where news may be seen after duty hours are over.

The Post Exchange maintains a branch store within a short distance so that all necessary small articles can be obtained at a very reasonable price.

The camp will be occupied on the morning of June 12, and the kitchens will soon after belch forth smoke, getting ready for lunch at noon on that day.

Interest in the movement has showed a marked increase in the past week. The total enrollments are now over 375, and it is expected that over 500 will present themselves at the camp on the 12th. A large number of the men are from the smaller cities and towns in Texas, which demonstrates the widespread interest in the preparedness movement throughout this section of the country. The states of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, will all have representatives at the
